THE STATE TREASURER'S.

An estimable gentleman, a Republican of sound standing, said, while calling on us yesterday, that he could a thousand times rather see B. F. Meyers elected treasurer of the Commonwealth, than Benjamin J. Haywood, nominated by Quay, that he has been acquainted with Mr. Meyers for twenty years and knew him to be an honest man and that he would make a trust worthy officer.

Is not this gentleman entirely right? The present investigation in Pittsburgh and the extravagance of the Legislature have developed a serious condition. Has our finances been well managed? Can the people safely trust their money in the hands of the Republican faction now in control in Pennsylvania?

THE STAR ATTENTION.

Our contemporary, the Star, does not seem to have much to say concerning the late Republican legislature of this State, yet certainly the tax payers of our county want to know why the expenses of the State were increased more than $3,000,000 and they have the right to know. The tax payers of Adams county are directly interested, for they, in part, pay for this Republican extravagance.

Here are a few figures which do not prove the Star's claim that the Republican party is an economical party—a comparison between the expenditures of the last two State Administrations.

EXTRAORDINARY DEPARTMENT	$1,000,000
State Department	$1,000,000
State & Gen'l. Fund	$1,000,000
Internal Affairs Department	$1,000,000
State & Internal Affairs Fund	$1,000,000
Tax Institution	$1,000,000
Admiralty General & Extraordinary	$1,000,000
Public Works & Buildings	$1,000,000
Department of Agriculture & W. F.	$1,000,000
Post Office, Superintendence	$1,000,000
Habits & Clerks Philadelphia	$1,000,000
Total	$6,000,000
Total increase	$3,000,000

The Star seems to publish only such news as suits its purpose. Why did it not mention the fact that the County Commissioners borrowed well before last, $1,500? What was paid for the public debt is news, so, also, is what they borrow.

Why does not our contemporary state why the Alton house officers are not fewer now than last year? This tends to an explanation for promises must be kept.

The Republican party paid a lot of legislation which bunched the national treasury with a $20,000,000 gold bearing down. Why does not the Star explain the Sherman Silver Purchase Act, for example?

How can the Star conscientiously claim that the Republican party is a party of good government, who in the last show it is extravagant and, in many places, actually corrupt?

NATIONAL REVENUE.

Statements made by Secretary Carlisle and Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller show the prospect for increased receipts from internal revenue so promising that it is hoped the government may be carried along successfully without changing the present law.

The receipts from internal revenue during the present month will exceed those of October, 1864, and will exceed those of October, 1865, while a constant increase month by month is anticipated from now until the end of the fiscal year. Commissioner Miller estimates that by the middle of February the receipts for the fiscal year that date will equal those of 1864 and that during the remainder of the year will show an increase.

Comparison is made with the year 1863 for the reason that, for six months after the passage of the tariff bill in 1861 the internal revenue receipts dropped to a very low figure, both on account of the hard times and the large withdrawal of whisky from bond in anticipation of the increased tax. The difference in the receipts during the present year and those during 1863 Mr. Miller looks upon as a deficit, but he is extremely anxious to see the deficit made up. At present it amounts to about $1,000,000. He estimates, however, that this amount will be reduced six million dollars this month, and during November, December, and January the balance will be cleared away. Under the Democratic administration national financial conditions are rapidly improving.

REPUBLICANS AT ODDE.

Chauncey Filley, of Missouri, a politician, and a member of the Republican National committee recently emitted an interview, in which he minimizes the evidences of industrial prosperity, and prophesies a further season of depression and disaster. This doleful utterance is spread abroad by the Protectionist journals which take delight in reviving past miseries and wallowing in the joy of prospective calamity. But the Public Ledger, (Republican) of Philadelphia, after declaring in direct terms that Mr. Filley's statements are false, and that he knows they are false, bears his own testimony to the remarkable industrial prosperity that now blessed and encourages the people of the United States as follows:

"A very well informed person knows it to be a well known fact that the manufacturing establishments in nearly all the industries are unusually active, that they have orders far in excess of their ability to fill them in the near future, that they are extending their operations, increasing general returns, and our manufacturers are so prosperous and feel the trade to be upon such stable and enduring foundations as to induce them to increase their output from one end of the country to the other, to increase, as has never been done before, the wages of their employees. In fact the public never had a better time, and the laborers are well paid when compared with the value of my work, with suggestion even, so largely and so generally increased wages?"

That will stagger the Star and Senate!

Every man on the Democratic ticket is worthy of our vote. By the election of the Democratic ticket good government is assured.

REPUBLICAN management of our county arts, as not been according to promises made.

The Star seems to have a notion that the colored voters of Gettysburg are a set of dummies who are to be stuffed with anything. The following paragraph taken from the Star, of last week, illustrates the error or which it makes, as well as the extravagance of its thinking and its want of liberality.

"The spirit of the Democracy in both the old Buchanan party prior to the rebellion, and the Barbourites now exist in the same form, though not taken in enslaving the colored race. Now pleasure is taken in oppressing them."

If the Star wants the colored people to vote the Republican ticket why does it not say to it that the Republican party elects a colored man when he is on the Republican ticket?

The Republican party knocks down a colored nominee just as regular as it puts him up.

To vote a straight ticket make a cross mark (X) in the circle at the top of the ticket.

AN ILLUSTRIOS PRESIDENT.

Introducing President Cleveland to the thousands gathered to receive him at the Atlantic Exposition last Wednesday, President Collier of the Exposition Company, gave apt expression to the sentiments of the great Southern heart when he said that the South sees in Mr. Cleveland and the most illustrious living Americans" and a President who has "erased the dark lines of sectionalism from the map of the Union."

In his address to the people of Atlanta the President, after congratulating Atlanta and the South on the splendid success of the exposition, said:

"It is important to be permitted, in conclusion, to express a most important lesson taught by this occasion—the absolute necessity to our national welfare and happiness of citizens, of a careful discrimination in our support of policies and in our advocacy of political doctrines between the two great parties which prompt the protection of the public weal, and the subordination of private and sectional interests. If we are to enjoy the blessings our government was destined to early and justly secure, we must secure the adoption of a policy culminating in a broad American brotherhood and uniting upon such conduct as will, within the spirit of the free state, promote the general welfare."

The men on our county ticket are known to be men of integrity and intelligence. Give them your support!

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

STATE TREASURER,

BENJAMIN F. MEYERS, Dauphin Co.

JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT,

CHARLES H. NOYES, of Bucks County.

P. P. SMITH, of Lackawanna County.

OLIVER P. RECHTIL, Schuylkill Co.

JAMES S. MOOREFIELD, Westmoreland.

CHRISTOPHER MIGEE, Allegheny Co.

PROTHONOTARY,

A. J. COLLINS, of Huntingdon Township.

DIRECTOR OF THE POOL,

JOHN HERBERT, of Cumberland Twp.

COUNTY SURVEYOR,

DANIEL P. DELAP, of Bendersville, Ber-

COSHER,

DR. T. C. MILLER, of Breckin Ridge.

THE STATE TREASURER.

An estimable gentleman, a Republican of sound standing, said, while cal-ing on us yesterday, that he would a thousand times rather see B. F. Meyers elected treasurer of the Commonwealth, than Benjamin J. Haywood, nominated by Quay; that he has been acquainted with Mr. Meyers for twenty years, and knew him to be a honest man, and that he would make a trust-worthy officer.

Is not this investigation entirely right?

The present investigation in Pittsburgh, and the extravagance of the Legislature,

have developed a serious condition.

Have our finances been well managed?

Can the people safely trust their money in the hands of the Republican faction

now in control in Pennsylvania?

THE "STAR'S" ATTENTION.

Our contemporary, the Star, does not seem to have much to say concerning the late Republican Legislature of this State, yet, certainly, the tax-payers of this county want to know why the expenses of the State were increased more than $500,000, and they have the right to know. The tax-payers of this community are directly interested, for they,

in part, pay for this Republican extravagance.

Here are a few figures which do not prove the Star's claim that the Republican party is an economical party—a comparison with the expenditures of the last two State Administrations.

Executive Department.....$1,048,425

Adjutant General.....$6,500

State Auditor.....$6,500

Internal Affairs Department.....$1,400

Banking Department.....$26,000

Bills of Exchange.....$1,000

Adjutant General's Department.....$9,000

Post Office Department.....$1,000

Public Grounds and Buildings.....$2,512

Board of Pensions.....$8,000

Board of Education (new).....$1,000

Public Practice Superintendent.....$1,000

Treasurer.....$1,000

Harbor Officer, Philadelphia.....$7,000

Total.....$9,025,500

Total increase.....$32,518

The Star seems to publish only such news as suits its purpose. Why did it not mention the fact that the County Commissioners borrowed, week before last, $1,500. If what they paid of the public debt is news, so, also, is what they borrow.

Why do we not contemporary state

why the Alms-house officers are not fewer now than last year? This demands an explanation, for promises must be kept.

The Republican party paid a lot of Legislation which burdened the national treasury with a $500,000,000 gold bearing debt. Why does not the Star explain the Sherman Silver Purchase Act.

For example?

How can the Star conscientiously claim that the Republican party is a party of good government, when its facts show it is extravagant and, in many places, actually corrupt.

It is a party which fails to keep its promises, spends the people's money recklessly, oftentimes for party purposes, favors the rich at the expense of the poor, as illustrated by the McKinley

Tariff Act, and has shown itself unli-to govern the people in Nation, State or County.

Our contemporary ought to tell its readers what its party is good for or what it has ever done for the good of the people. By its acts the expenses of the State are increased and by its acts

the national credit has been threatened.

Slanders the Democratic party will do but little benefit to the Republicans when so much is to be said about their own doings.

THE VOTE OF THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

The campaign this fall has led in it very little of bluster, blar or torch-light procession. It has been unusually quiet, and the issues have been explained with fairness and decency by the Democrats at least. The important factors in the campaign have been written about and talked about until all the people are acquainted with the circumstances of which they are to judge.

One of these factors, and a very important one, is the condition of the times. It was, last year, the policy of the Republican party to make it appear that men and business would suffer under a Democratic Administration, but from all sections of the State comes the story of increasing wages—mills, factories and furnaces running on extra schedules with employment for all who seek it, and iron and steel centers pushed to the utmost. Skilled and unskilled labor is in demand and this demand was a significant feature of the early summer, always notable as the dull season of the year—and there is no sign of abatement with the approach of cold weather.

A trust-worthy evidence of sus-stantial revival in the industries of the State is to be found in the large report of the State Department, covering the work of the official year just at close.

Quite a number of persons from different places were at the scenes of the battlefield.

John F. Cole has a fine chicken-house almost completed.

H. J. Hinkenholz, Jr., and several gentlemen from Gettysburg were in the Valley on bicycles.

The men are very bright and beautiful young men.

The Hand of Death.

Mr. Silasius L. Orner

Mrs. Silasius L. Orner, widow of Michael Orner Sr., died at her late residence, in Menallen township, Oct. 21, 1865. Deceased was born in York county Jan 16, 1833, moved to Adams county a few years prior to her marriage. She was married Feb 13, 1858, and died in the same neighborhood, having died of consumption. She was a kind wife and loving mother, and beloved by all who knew her. Her husband predeceased her by 1 year and 6 months. She had a home of eleven children, four daughters, Andrew, of Ida Vista, Lewis G. of Cornwall, Lebanon county, Lewis B. of Carlisle, John, of Carlisle, and James, of Menallen township, Mrs. Katie Yeatts, of Carlisle, Mrs. Isabella E. of Bryan, Ohio, and Miss Isabella E. of Bryan, a twenty-eight year old girl, who was the greatest of her kind. She was a good girl, and was aged 62 years when she died.

OF COMMON INTEREST.

A READABLE COLUMN OF FACT AND INFORMATION OF ALL SORTS.

A CASE was tried in the Clearfield county courts week before last, which shows how a small matter can be carried to extremes. A man was arrested and indicted for stealing a rutabaga turnip, valued at six cents. The trial cost the county $200.

JUDGE BARKER, of Cambria county, who was holding the special term of court in Bellefonte for Judge Love, did a unique thing recently in the case of Collins Bros. against the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, over the value of a right of way. He was unable to determine from the conflicting statements of the witnesses who was right. Judge Barker adjourned Court temporarily, and, taking the jury with him, went on the grounds and examined the property in dispute. The jury then found for the plaintiff in the sum of $100.

Mr. GEO. A. REYNOLDS, of Cave- town, Washington county, stated to a representative of the Gettysburg Herald that land in the peach belt was quadripled in value in the last twenty years. Twenty-five years ago, when Mr. Reynolds, the pioneer peach grower, cleared off chestnut sprouts in order to plant peach trees, the venture was regarded as utterly foolish by the older residents of the neighborhood.

The borough of Hummelstown has brought suit against W. E. Brunner for the recovery of unpaid taxes. The defendant owns a farm on the outskirts of the borough and not receiving any water and light benefits he refuses to pay any taxes on the same.

Early Friday morning week robbers broke into the store of P. A. Garber, at Newville, and carried away dry goods and clothing amounting to $40. A reward of $100 has been offered by Mr. Garber for the apprehension of the thieves.

JUDGE EDWARD SPAKE signed the papers incorporating the Hagerstown &amp; Potomac Electric Railway Company, whose object was to build a street railway in Hagerstown and extensions to suburban towns. The incorporators are Fred. S. Schermer and Edward R. Spangler, of Harrisburg; Dr. E. A. Wareman, Samuel H. Long, Wyatt M. Keedy and Edward Hoffman, of Hagerstown. The incorporated were the first year's directors, including William Grier and John W. Dens, of Pennsylvania. The capital $200,000 divided into 4,000 $50 shares.

That big electric locomotive of the Baltimore &amp; Ohio hauled the heaviest load ever moved by any locomotive through the Belt line tunnel at Baltimore the other day. It consisted of forty-four loaded freight cars and three dead locomotives, weighing in the aggregate 1,900 tons. This vast bulk which could not have been moved by three steam locomotives was yanked through the tunnel over a mile long at the rate of twelve miles an hour. What was more remarkable the start was made on an up grade, requiring a pull of 60,000 pounds to start and 40,000 pounds to keep going. This load was heavier by seven cars than the best previous haul of the locomotive. Another of these electric monsters will be ready for work in a couple of weeks.

Mrs. DANIEL L. BREW, of near Bonneaville, had an encounter removed from her eye, Oct. 15th, at the Presbyterian Hospital, Baltimore, by Prof. Chisholm. She is getting along nicely.

WHEREVER the sun is visible a watch may take the place of a compass. This information will be of value to anglers and other sportmen in emergency. Point the hand of your watch to the sun and south is exactly half way between the hour and figure 10 on the watch. For example, if it is 4 o'clock point the hand indicating 4 to the sun and the 2 on the watch will indicate due south. If it is 8 o'clock in the morning point the hand indicating 5 to the sun and the figure 10 on the watch is due south. If the hour hand be at 3, due south will be exactly half way between 1 and 2, and so on.

The stocks of the late Daniel Hollinger, Waynesboro, were sold Saturday afternoon a week as follows: 650 shares Prick Co., stock at an average of $25 per share; 66 shares Geiser Co., at an average of $61 per share; 300 American Mtg. Co., $6 per share; 6 shares Mont Alto Railroad Co., $4 per share; 16 shares W. U. Telegraph Co., stock at $10.50 per share. The total amount of the sales was $22,500.

One of the costly and vicious models of the day is that showing in detail all the beauties of the World's Fair "White City." It has just been finished after two years, cost $60,000, and is to be exhibited at the Cotton States Exposition, now on at Atlanta, and at Paris in 1900. Everything is mathematically proportional, on the scale of one-twelfth inch to the foot, and every detail is reproduced—22,000 pieces entering into the reproduced Machinery Hall alone. There are trees and sidewalks, the intramural railway, with running cars, searchlights, Krupp guns, and the Illinois battleship, capable of brilliant illumination. There are 1,000 lights and 3,200 minute lamps in the Court of Honor, and in the Administration building. In the entire model are over 2,000,000 openings through which electric lights gleam in the transformation evening scene.

THE fine block of limestone from the quarries of Buttinger &amp; Ebley, near Hendrix Station, that was on exhibition at the great Columbian Exposition at Chicago, is now being shown in the collection of Pennsylvania minerals at the Atlanta Exposition. It is a credit to this section, and we presume the only exhibit from this vicinity at the great Southern fair.

There will be a state convention of the Christian Alliance held in Harrisburg from November 13 to 17. Rev. Dr. Simpson and others of New York will be present and also representative speakers and delegates from many sections of the state. It will be the largest and best convention of the kind ever held in Pennsylvania.

The large barn of Joseph Kral, in Monaghan township, York county, was destroyed by an incendiary fire on Thursday night. Seven horses, three cows, all the farming implements and this year's crops were also consumed. The loss will aggregate $4,000.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Oct. 20.—The first woman ever performing a marriage ceremony in Washington county, Md., was the Rev. Miss Laura E. N. Crossnick, at Mapleville, recently married Miss Rosalie Nimmerman and Mr. James B. Kercheval. Miss Fanzie Cross was bridesmaid and Mr. John Duke best man. It was a home wedding. The question was raised as to whether the marriage was valid. State's Attorney C. A. Little says it was, and that

You can carry the little vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets right in the vest-pocket of your dress suit, and will not make even a little lump. The "Pellets" are so small that 42 to 44 of them go in a vial scarcely more than an inch long, and as big round as a lead pencil.

They cure constipation.

One "Pellet" is a laxative; two a mild cathartic. One taken after dinner will stimulate digestive action and palliate the effects of over-eating. They act gently on stomach, liver and bowels. They don't do the work themselves. They simply stimulate the natural action of the organs themselves. That where they differ from all other pills. That is what makes them better than all other pills. You don't become a slave to their use with other pills, because their help hasn't once used, they are always in favor.

DR. W. A. RUDISILL, formerly of York, now missionary at Madras, India, was married on Thursday a week at Eatow street M. E. church, Baltimore, to Miss Jessie G. Thompson, daughter of James S. Thompson, 1227 Myrtle avenue, Baltimore. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Luther B. Wilson, presiding elder of the Washington conference, assisted by Rev. G. E. Maynard, pastor of the Eatow street church and Rev. Dr. John F. Goucher, president of the Myrtle Avenue College.

On Friday a week, Dr. Michael Price died at his residence on Conestoga street, Steelton, of a sudden attack of apoplexy while on his way to his work as weigher at the Steel Company's foundry. He received a light stroke while at work, and caused him to give up the practice of medicine. Dr. Price was born in McSherrystown, Adams county, nearly sixty-six years ago. During the war he joined the confederate cause and served as a staff officer of Gen. J. E. B. Stuart.

The Carlisle "Herald" says: The mountain fires on the South mountain are still burning, though not so fiercely, the winds having decreased. Above Mt. Holly the first fire started in the meadows between Hunters Run and Holly Dam. It swept northeast and burned with great rapidity, crossing the top of the mountain and coming down this side. A large force of men from Mt. Holly and vicinity fought hard, and Monday night stopped the fire from spreading, but it caught again and burned as lively as ever. The fire between Mt. Holly and Boling Springs is an immense one, and has swept over thousands of acres of land. It has been fairly well controlled, and there is no danger of its spreading more.

Mrs. JEROME AVERLY was recently awarded $1,100 damages against the city of Cumberland, Md., for injuries suffered in falling on an icy pavement last January. She injured her wrist by the fall and the physicians testified that the injury was permanent. She is a woman of advanced years, who made her living by washing. The amount claimed was $5,000.

There is rough land on almost all our farms, where it would pay better to plant out, for both the timber and for the fruits, than anything else, says the Butler Citizen. A large farm of these trees set out on the roadside, perhaps thirty feet from the centre of the road and twenty feet apart, would sell enough nuts annually to pay the taxes and leave a surplus for each picker sufficient to pay for the picking. Just why the farmers neglect to care for such trees and suffer loss thereby is strange.

JOHN MUSSELMAN, residing in Leacock township, Lancaster county, had 32 acres planted in potatoes and the yield was 3,000 bushels, and average of 250 bushels per acre. They are of the White Star and Mammoth Pearl varieties, and are of very good size. He had White Stars that weighed 20 ounces and Mammoth Pearls that weighed 25 ounces each. From one lot of four acres the yield was 1,300 bushels. George Muselman, a neighbor, had 20 acres planted and his yield was 4,800 bushels, an average of 240 bushels per acre.

any regularly ordained minister, whether man or woman, can legally perform the marriage ceremony. The Rev. Miss Grossnickle is a native of Washington county, and was ordained a minister in the German Baptist Brethren (Dunkard) church in Ohio.

JACOB HULL, who lives along the side of Pine Knob, above Uniontown, is a monster rattermacker ready, which had thirty rats in it, says the Connellyville Register. The reptile had just finished a meal of fresh squirrel, having swallowed a gray and reddish whale. Hull matched the snake four hours and saw it tree the squirrel in a small tree. As soon as it got them up the tree it began to charm them. The frightened squirrels made a hideous noise as the reptile closed in on them, but they at last submitted and were devoured. In order to satisfy himself Hull cut the snake open and found both squirrels in its stomach.

CAN THE REPUBLICAN PARTY JUSTLY CLAIM TO BE A SOUND MONEY PARTY?

Read the Platform.

Our stocks of the Grand Old Party in Pennsylvania describes "the growing use of money in politics," but at the same time it solicits with one hand behind the back the assessed contributions of policemen, firemen, Federal, State and municipal officials for the purpose of carrying elections. In Philadelphia at least $100,000 has been openly expended in buying the votes of delinquents who are expected in return of this service to vote the Republican ticket without regard to personal prejudices or public advantage. With such hypocritical and dishonest professions for election, what may be expected afterward?

Mrs. PORTER POWERS—"Oh, Bridget, you have broken that in grisly Japanese vase." Bridget—"Sure, m'm, isn't it lucky that there was nothing in it?"—Tears flying.

At the Danbury (Conn.) fair the other day there was a monkey that dodged rubber balls thrown at him three for five cents. The local monkey agent interfered on behalf of the monkey and a colored boy was substituted. And yet there are those who swear at the work done by human societies.
